1-Page Design Principles PDF

Gestalt: Similarity and Proximity:

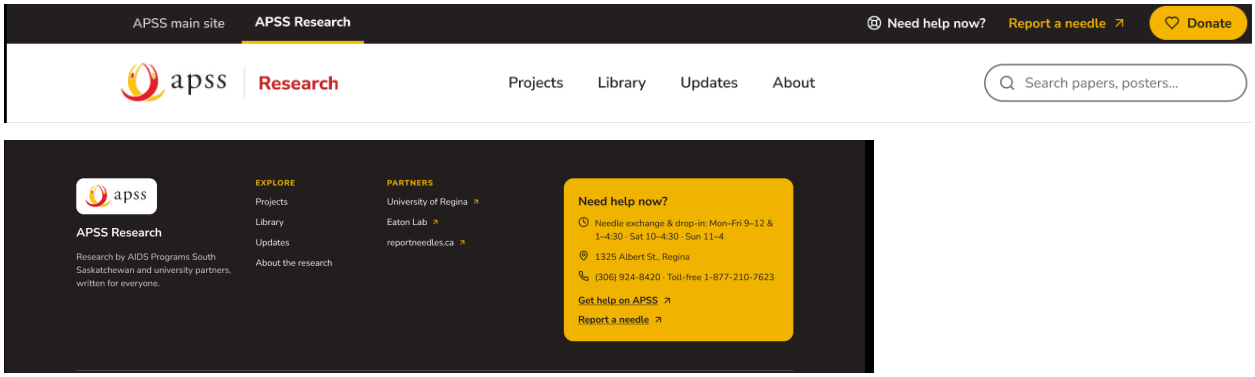

- The design applies Gestalt principles of similarity and proximity through consistent cards, icons, and spacing, creating a clear visual hierarchy and intuitive navigation.

Affordances and Signifiers:

- The search bar uses affordances and signifiers to communicate its function. The rounded shape suggests an interactive input field, while the search icon and placeholder text act as signifiers that indicate where and how to search.

End-to-End Experience, not just features:

- The header introduces the user journey by providing navigation to research content and quick access to support services. The footer concludes the experience by offering contact information, service availability, and direct links to essential resources, ensuring users know where to go for further assistance.
