APSS Site Map Proposal

Aubin Chriss Izere · SID 200490675 · ENSE 271 · Group B · October 2026

Organized by what people come to do: get help, learn, get involved

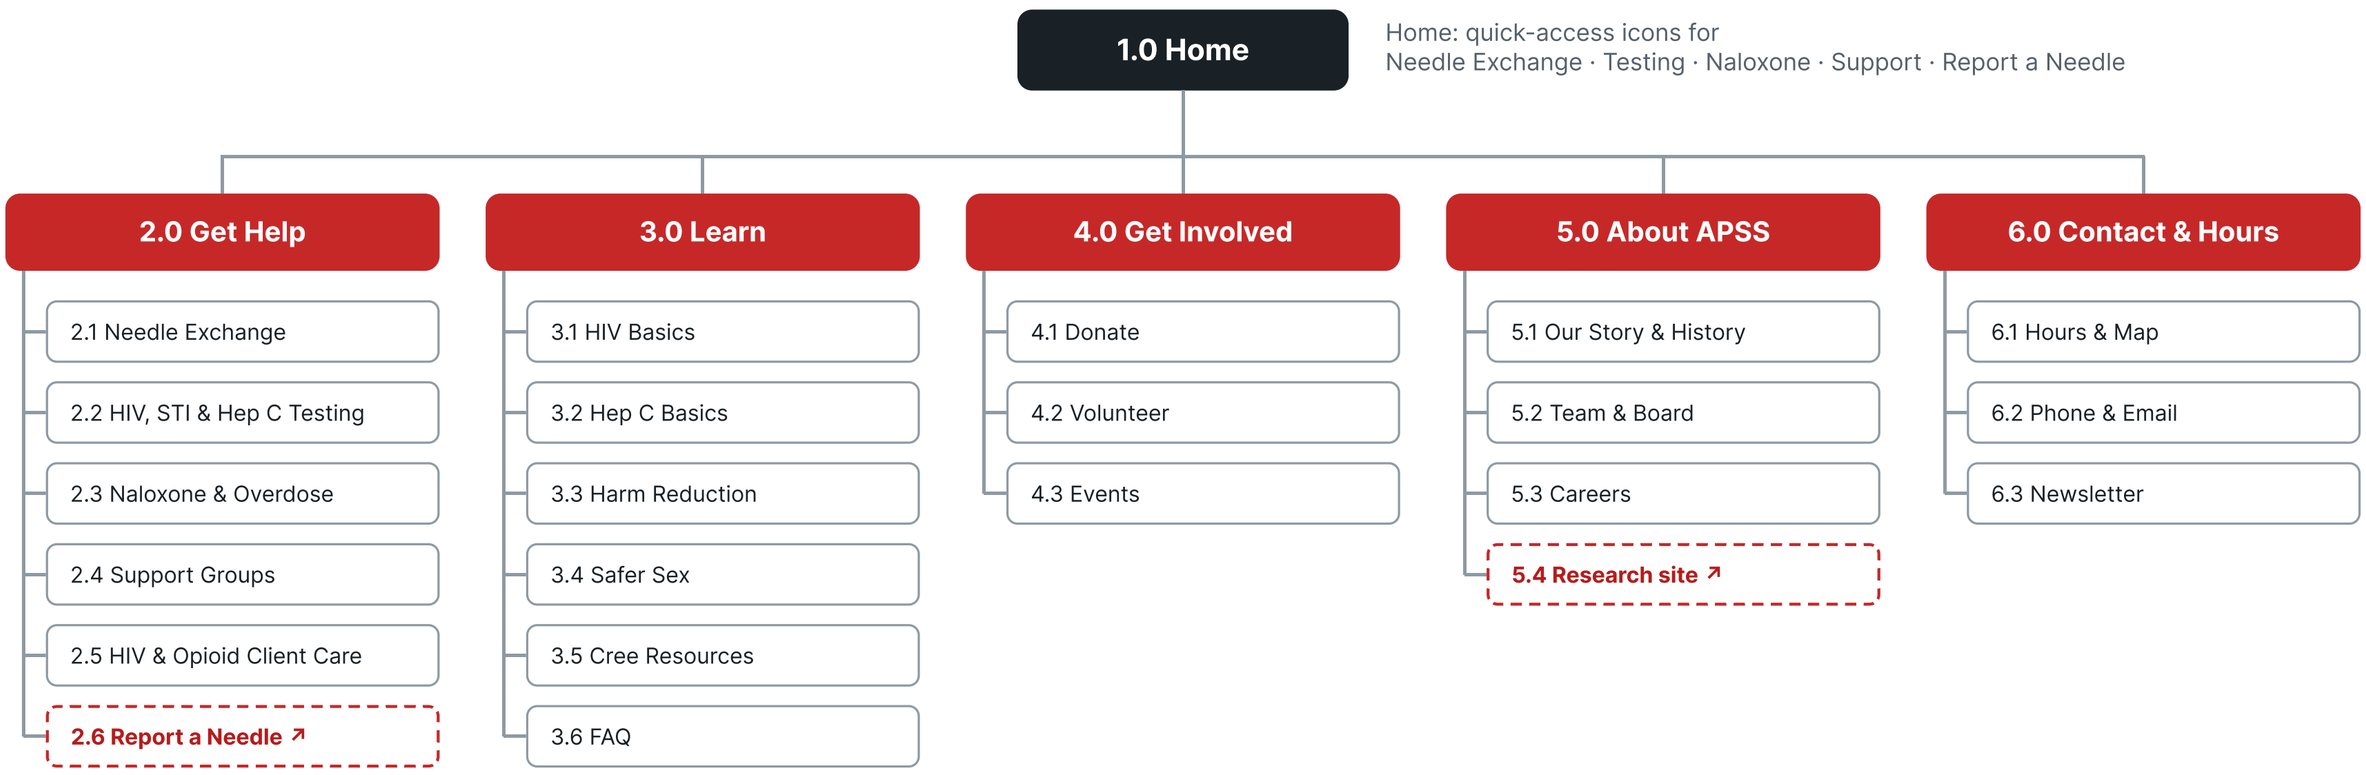

Homepage
Main site section
Research site section
Page
Links to another site

How the three sites connect

The main and research sites point at each other from the same spots on every page, and both send people to reportneedles.ca.

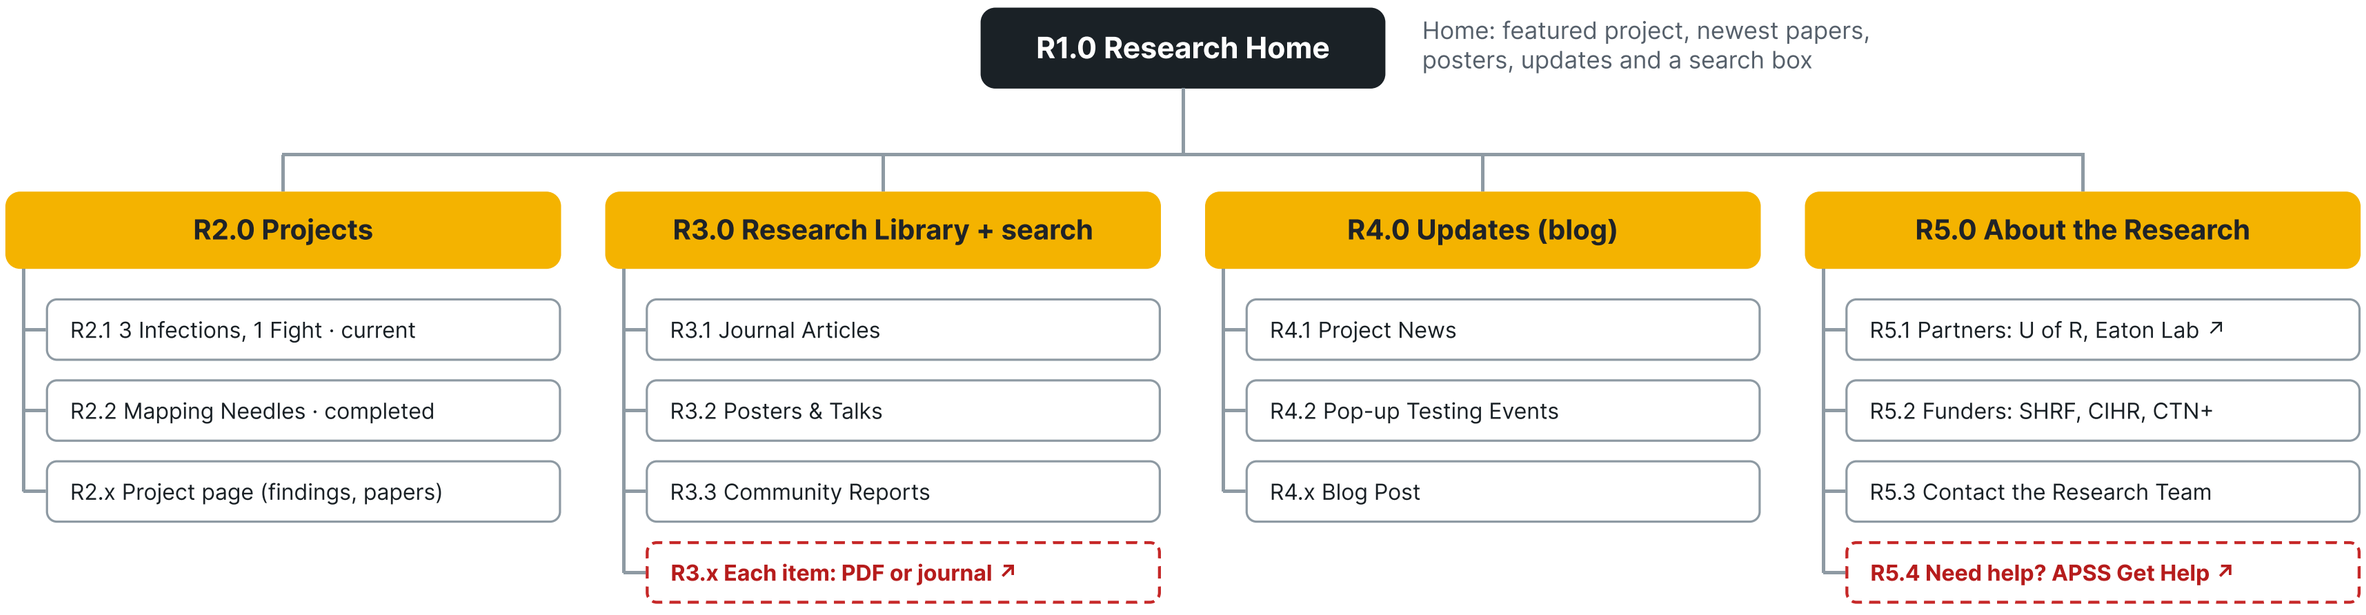

Main site (redesign) aidsprogramssouthsask.com

Every page · top bar: Research site ↗, Report a Needle ↗, Search · footer: Hours, Phone, Donate, Privacy, Accessibility

Every service sits directly under Get Help, one click from Home, instead of inside a general Services page. Donate and Volunteer get their own section for carryover customers.

Research site (new) WordPress · built from scratch

Every page · top bar: ← APSS main site, Report a Needle ↗, Search · footer: Need help now? (hours, phone), Partners, Privacy

The brief's five asks each have a home: current and completed projects (R2), publications and posters (R3, searchable), a blog (R4), and links to APSS and reportneedles.ca on every page.

Prefixes: R = research site. A number ending in .x means one page per item, such as each blog post.